

Six Areas of Action

To realize the vision of parks and green spaces, the adopted strategy is centred around six major areas of action:

1
Create an Intergenerational Park at Benson Park

- > Provide versatile and inclusive facilities for all age.
- > Develop a welcoming space with recreational, cultural and social programming.
- > Highlight Hudson's identity.
- > Create an iconic and unifying civic space in Hudson's downtown area.

3
Adapt and Enhance the Recreational Offer to Meet Diverse Needs

- > Diversify and modernize recreational offerings for all age groups.
- > Encourage a variety of activities through versatile and inclusive equipment.
- > Integrate flexibility and innovation to ensure a scalable offering.
- > Structure a comprehensive and coherent recreational offer across the Town.

5
Highlight Hudson's Waterfront Character and Improve Access to Water

- > Improve accessibility to the river and its shoreline.
- > Preserve the ecological integrity of the waterfront environment.
- > Increase opportunities for contact with the water.
- > Showcase the distinctive natural heritage.

2
Strengthen the Role of St-Thomas Park as a Sports Hub

- > Concentrate sports facilities to fully leverage a central space.
- > Ensure better infrastructure coherence and management.
- > Maximize the use of supporting facilities.

4
Strengthen and Sustain the Trail Network

- > Ensure the long-term viability of the trail network through formalization and conservation.
- > Structure key routes to improve accessibility and usability.
- > Add access points, signage, and sustainable amenities.
- > Protect the ecological integrity of the environments the trails pass through.

6
Improve Neighbourhood Service Area Coverage in Underserved Areas

- > Ensure an equitable distribution of green spaces across the territory.
- > Address gaps in the neighbourhood park coverage in underserved areas.
- > Create or improve local spaces tailored to community needs.
